3. Rationale for programs that are longer than state requirements and benefits to be derived from the additional training:

Nail Technician: In Michigan, applicants for state licensure must have 400 clock hours of training and must pass a written and practical exam. The rationale for our 600 Nail Technician program is that it features additional emphasis on special effects, work with a nail drill and greater practical experience. The added benefits of this for students include greater familiarity with special effects along with enhanced nail drill proficiency, which will make them more competitive in today's work environment.

Advanced Esthetics: In Michigan, applicants for state licensure must have 400 clock hours of training and must pass a written and practical exam. rationale for our 600-hour program is that it avails students additional time to focus on artistic principles (makeup) and skin care techniques. The added benefits of this for students include greater familiarity with artistic principles of makeup and skin care techniques which will make them more competitive in today's work environment.

Instructor: The State of Michigan requires 500 hours of instruction for this program. The rationale for our 600-hour program is that it avails students additional time to focus on course development and practical teaching. The added benefits of this for students include more familiarity with course development and practical teaching, which will make them more competitive in today's work environment.
